- In the current logistics landscape, where we are facing significant margin pressure due to intense price competition and high service expectations from customers, what does the Management identify as the Company's true core competitive advantage? How will this advantage be protected or expanded over the next 3–5 years?
- What is the Company's long-term vision for the next 5–10 years? Does the Company have concrete plans for digital transformation, technology investment, or automation adoption, including any strategic partnerships, to adapt to logistics trends and pursue sustainable development?
- Could the Company share and assess what it sees as the most significant business risks currently and in the foreseeable future, including market risks, legal risks, technological risks, and supply chain disruptions? What specific response scenarios has the Company prepared to mitigate the impact of these risks on its operations and performance?
- Regarding the Company's lawsuit against the insurance company: Could the Management elaborate on the background and causes of the dispute, as well as the Company's legal stance and strategic approach in handling the case? How has the outcome affected the Company's reputation, finances, and operations—especially in relation to partners and clients? More importantly, what risk management lessons has the Company learned to prevent similar situations in the future?

* Responses from the Presidium:

- In terms of strategy, for both Sotrans and PSA (the world's largest port operator), our partnership reflects a shared, ambitious vision. With PSA's collaboration, Sotrans is determined to establish a strong, long-term position in Vietnam's logistics and port industry. As part of our 5–10 year strategic roadmap, Sotrans is continuously investing in port infrastructure and port-related ecosystems—not only in the South but also expanding into the North, and soon, we plan to grow further into the Mekong Delta market within this year.
- Regarding our business focus, Sotrans has entered its second phase of transformation. The first transformation, successfully completed by the end of 2024, significantly enhanced our competitive advantages in infrastructure, technology, human resources, and operational capacity. For the next four years (2025–2028), our goal is to become a National Champion—a leading port operator in Vietnam supporting international shipping and port logistics needs of manufacturers across the country.

- As for our core competitive advantage, from the Management's perspective, the logistics sector in Vietnam is extremely fragmented. According to the General Statistics Office, there are approximately 27,000 logistics service providers in Vietnam, of which the Vietnam Logistics Association (VLA) has around 1,000 members. Roughly 95–97% of these are small to medium-sized enterprises, whose only real competitive edge is pricing. As the shareholder rightly pointed out, profit margins are increasingly compressed: customers demand annual price reductions of 3%, 5%, or even 7%, while competitors aggressively undercut prices.

In contrast, Sotrans aims to build a comprehensive service ecosystem—a one-stop logistics platform capable of delivering end-to-end solutions from any origin to any destination globally. These services span air, sea, rail, road, and inland waterway transport, all integrated through our own ports, customs clearance services, barges, warehouses, and transportation systems. Our entire network is internally connected and operated under a unified governance framework. This integrated model is our core competitive advantage, and the Management firmly believes it is the key to long-term sustainable growth.

We are willing to accept lower margins in segments like transportation, provided that we can consistently deliver the high service standards expected by major clients and international partners. This focus on quality, integration, and consistency across our entire service chain defines our target market and our sustainable competitive edge.

- Following the completion of our second transformation phase, our digital transformation and commitment to green, sustainable operations are already well underway, we did not wait for a later stage to act. For example, all of our drivers have been certified in green driving practices, making us one of the few companies in Vietnam to hold this certification. This initiative enables us to engage with major international clients and participate in global-standard projects.

Regarding digital transformation, nearly all of our service operations—including warehousing, transportation, barge operations, and port services—are now managed through specialized software systems. The next step is to integrate these systems onto a unified platform, paving the way for the application of Big Data analytics in the future.

At this Annual General Meeting, the Board of Directors is proposing a resolution to allocate 0.5% of after-tax profit to a Research and Development (R&D) Fund, as the Management recognizes that in today's rapidly evolving market, companies that fail to innovate risk being left behind. This fund will support our efforts to harness emerging technologies - such as AI, Blockchain, and Big Data - to identify how they can create long-term competitive advantages across our service offerings. We have already begun exploratory research in these areas with the aim of equipping the Company with advanced technological capabilities that will sustain future growth.

- Regarding market-related and operational risks, we fully agree with the concerns raised. In the course of doing business, the Company faces daily exposure to a wide range of risks—market volatility, legal and regulatory changes, fierce competition, currency fluctuations, human resources, technology disruptions, and operational challenges.

The Company has focused on strengthening its internal systems so that they are capable of self-defending against these multifaceted risks. Up to this point, we believe our risk management efforts have been relatively effective.

From a personal perspective, one of the most pressing risks stems from regulatory and policy shifts, which have been highly unpredictable and can create significant impacts. In many cases, compliance is the only option—even when such policies are difficult to absorb. For instance, the land rental costs for the Company have increased eightfold in just two years, while we were only able to apply an average increase of around 5% to customer contracts over a three-year term.

This illustrates how the Company sometimes bears disproportionate pressures due to regulatory changes. We have raised these issues not only within the Company but also through industry associations, though not all matters can be resolved, given the complexity of the policy environment.

- Regarding the lawsuit, it relates to a warehouse fire incident that occurred at the Company's Ben Suc Warehouse, located at 1B Hoang Dieu Street, Ward 13, District 4, on the evening of June 23, 2017. Due to time limitations, we would like to briefly summarize the key points as follows:
 - + The Police Department conducted an investigation and issued a clear conclusion: the incident was a force majeure event caused by an electrical short circuit. All fire prevention and fighting measures (FPFF) of the Company were found to be fully compliant with legal regulations.
 - + Not only warehousing, but all business activities of the Company were and continue to be covered by insurance.
 - + While no one wishes for such incidents to occur, inherent risks always exist. As a result, the Company has maintained strict compliance with regulations, closely monitored all operational procedures, trained personnel, and invested in upgraded equipment and safety measures.
 - + In terms of communication, the Company responded promptly and transparently. On the morning following the incident, we issued an official statement, committing to:

- a. Fully honoring all contractual obligations with customers.
 - b. Working directly with each household and individual in the surrounding area.
 - c. Engaging legal counsel to immediately work with the insurance company.
 - d. Cooperating fully with authorities, including investigative bodies and fire prevention agencies, by providing all required legal documentation.
 - e. Engaging with each affected customer to review contract terms and ensure strict compliance.
- + As of now, the case is temporarily suspended, pending independent verification of the total damages. A City-level committee has been established and is still in the process of assessment. Progress has been difficult, as not all customers are able to provide complete supporting documents to substantiate their losses.
 - + In principle, the Company has fulfilled all obligations under existing contracts, complied with fire safety regulations, and maintained valid insurance coverage. Although the final resolution is pending, a partial insurance payout has already been received.

2. Shareholder representing Tai Viet Joint Stock Company, code No. STG0312

- Regarding planning: Could the Management clarify how certain risks—particularly those related to U.S. tax policy changes—may impact business operations and how the Company intends to ensure the annual business targets are met?
- Given that Q1 performance may fall short of the annual plan, how does the Management assess the outlook for Q2? What are the key drivers or foundations for acceleration in the second half of the year? According to the report, Vietranstimex did not meet its targets in 2024—what is the expected contribution of this company to the 2025 consolidated business results?
- Could the Company provide an update on the progress and scale of the chemical warehouse investment project? Once completed, how is this project expected to contribute to the Company’s revenue and profit in the future?
- What is the current status of Phase 2 of the Long Binh Port expansion? How is the implementation progressing, when is the expected commissioning date, and what is the designed capacity? Are there any major obstacles or difficulties?
- Beyond strategic alignment, does PSA—as a strategic shareholder—currently bring or is expected to bring any additional significant contributions to Sotrans Group in the near or long-term future?

* Responses from the Presidium:

- Regarding the impact of U.S. counter-tariff policies, in the worst-case scenario, these changes could potentially affect 25–30% of the Company’s business plan. At

- the time the 2025 budget was prepared, this tariff scenario was not anticipated or factored in. Therefore, based on our latest assessment, should the policy come into full effect, it could result in a reduction of the Company's projected results by up to 25–30%.
- As for the Company's confidence in meeting its targets in Q2 and the second half of the year, the following are key justifications:
 - + While shareholders may note that Q1 performance appeared to fall short, the Company sees it differently. Although revenue reached only 81% of the Q1 target, pre-tax profit exceeded the plan by 7%. From the Management's perspective, Q1 is traditionally a low season, and such performance should be seen as a positive signal.
 - + Following the recent decision by President Trump to delay the tariff policy on Vietnam by 60 days, and considering ongoing U.S.-China and U.S.-Vietnam negotiations, the business outlook for the Company in Q2 is much stronger than Q1. It's important to note that Q1 included the Tet holiday (around two weeks off), resulting in very low February volumes. However, March saw a 40% increase in volume over February, and both April and May show continued growth over March.

Therefore, Q2 is expected to outperform Q1, and the Company anticipates that this momentum will provide a reserve buffer to partially offset the potential 25–30% downside from the worst-case tariff scenario.
 - Regarding Vietranstimex (VTT): The company incurred losses in 2024, which significantly contributed to STG achieving only 76% of its consolidated business plan. However, in Q1/2025, the loss was reduced by 50% compared to the 2024 average. It is important to note that Q1 is typically a low-revenue period for VTT, as the company specializes in project-based services involving oversized and super-heavy cargo. Q2 performance is expected to improve significantly, as more projects are typically launched during this period. This forms the basis for the Management's confidence that, while the targets are challenging, they remain achievable and realistic.
 - Regarding the Long Binh Port expansion, the Board of Directors and Management are currently focused on upgrading the existing Long Binh Port. The Company has 20 hectares of land there, with a current maximum capacity of approximately 500,000 teus per year. Under the second 4-year transformation plan (2025–2028), the goal is to increase capacity to 760,000 teus by 2028—a 50% improvement—within the same land footprint. Achieving this will require investments in modernized equipment, improvements in service delivery processes, and optimization based on market growth trends.
 - As for the STL chemical warehouse, while its contribution to total revenue and profit is projected at around 7–8%, this project holds strategic importance for the - Company. It represents STL's first foray into a niche segment of the logistics market. Based on the Company's feasibility study, this project offers a higher profit margin than conventional warehouses. In recent years, margins in the traditional warehousing segment have been declining due to increasing competition. While warehousing remains a core business for the Company, we must optimize existing operations and expand our service capabilities to remain competitive and profitable.

- Regarding the role and contributions of PSA to Sotrans since their strategic investment, PSA—being one of the largest port operators in the world—has made a strong commitment to co-invest and accompany Sotrans in becoming a leading port operator in the market. Through our ongoing collaboration with PSA, we have identified numerous areas for learning and improvement.

As mentioned earlier, PSA's subsidiary BDP, a global leader in chemical warehousing operations, provided significant technical and operational support for the development of Sotrans' chemical warehouse project. This collaboration was instrumental in successfully initiating our first entry into a niche, high-margin logistics segment.

Furthermore, PSA has been actively involved in working with the Sotrans Management Team to prepare for the upgrade of Long Binh Port, aiming to increase capacity from 500,000 TEUs to 760,000 TEUs per year. These are direct and practical contributions that reflect PSA's long-term commitment.

In addition to operational cooperation, PSA's extensive global network of major clients and shipping lines represents a valuable opportunity for Sotrans to tap into a broader customer ecosystem. PSA also shares insights and best practices in areas such as talent development, technology, and corporate governance—these are intangible yet critical contributions that help elevate Sotrans to meet national and regional standards of excellence.

After responding to the questions, no further questions or comments were raised by other shareholders./.

On approving for Dividend payment in 2024 and 2025

To: 2025 Annual General Meeting of Shareholders South Logistics Joint Stock Company

- Pursuant to Enterprise Law No. 59/2020/QH14 dated June 17, 2020 and documents guiding the implementation of the Enterprise Law;

- Pursuant to the Audited Separate Financial Statements and Consolidated Financial Statements 2024 of South Logistics Joint Stock Company;
- Based on the Company's production and business activities,

Pursuant to the Resolution of the Annual General Meeting of Shareholders (“AGM”) dated June 21, 2024, the AGM of South Logistics Joint Stock Company (SOTRANS) approved the dividend payout for the years 2023 and 2024 at the rate of 0% of charter capital.

Based on the business performance evaluation for the year 2024, the Board of Directors (“BOD”) acknowledges that the Company continues to face significant challenges.

The year 2024 marked a period of considerable volatility as the global economy remained in a slow and unstable recovery phase. Prolonged high interest rates, rising financial costs, reduced consumer demand and investment in major export markets, as well as ongoing disruptions in global supply chains and logistics, have had a substantial impact on logistics enterprises, including SOTRANS.

In addition, amid increasingly fierce competition and the imperative to upgrade infrastructure capacity, the Company has proactively adjusted its financial strategy with a prudent approach—focusing financial resources on infrastructure upgrades, technological advancements, service network expansion, and business development within its subsidiaries. These investments serve as a vital foundation for enhancing competitiveness and laying the groundwork for sustainable medium- and long-term growth.

Therefore, to ensure financial stability and maintain liquidity, the BOD respectfully submits to the AGM for consideration and approval the following:

- Dividend for 2024 and 2025: 0% of charter capital.

- From 2026 onward: Dividend payout will be reviewed and determined based on the Company's financial position, business performance, cash flow, and capital needs, ensuring a balance between shareholder interests and the Company's long-term development orientation.

- The bonus for the Board of Directors for 2024 shall be 0.8% of consolidated after-tax profit, equivalent to VND 1,630,633,935, in place of the previously approved maximum rate of 1% at the 2024 AGM.

As part of our sustainable development strategy and efforts to expand both domestic and international markets, establishing a professional, modern, and consistent brand image is a pivotal factor in enhancing our market position, differentiating our services, and increasing brand recognition within the increasingly competitive logistics industry.

After a period of research and practical evaluation of our business operations, customer feedback, and contemporary branding trends, the Board of Directors (BOD) has determined that the current brand identity system no longer fully meets the requirements of our new brand positioning. - Enhance recognition, usability, and consistency across the entire system;
- Establish a solid foundation for marketing, communications, market expansion, and investor engagement,

The Board of Directors of South Logistics Joint Stock Company respectfully submits to the Annual General Meeting of Shareholders (“AGM”) 2025 for approval of the following matters:

1. Approval of the initiative to change the Company's corporate brand identity system, including the update of the Company's logo.
2. Approval of amendments and supplements to the Company's Charter to reflect the logo change and related regulations.

- Direct and approve the necessary work items to ensure timely development and implementation of SOTRANS's brand strategy, promote brand image, support business development, and enhance service quality and product value for customers.
